

Anthropogenic Impact of Meenachil Based on pollution

Inspired of the course 'Global Environmental History', a group of students under took a minor field research on the theme man-made pollution of Meenachil River. The students involved in the field research included, Jijo k Varghese, Arya Babu, Archana N, Anju, Sona and Chinju. They were divided into two groups and one group did field work at kumarakom region and the other at Chunkam and Nagampadam region. They were able to identify some specific reasons for the escalating pollution level of the river research was a documentary lasting 25 minutes .The same for the awareness of peer group in the university.

